OUTDOOR Acts

Here are six ways the arts and the outdoors are in perfect harmony in the Stevens Point Area.

ART IN THE PARK

– Pfißner Pioneer Park is the site of this popular family-friendly art event every September.

ARTSWALK – in May, downtown Stevens Point comes alive with live music and dance performances as well as local art for sale.

DOWNTOWN MURALS – buildings in downtown Stevens Point depict the town's rich history. Some Polish murals have been around for decades.

HIDDEN STUDIOS ART TOUR

– winding along portions of the Ice Age Trail, this event is a chance to purchase fine art and explore working artist studios and fall colors in eastern Portage County.

STEVENS POINT SCULPTURE PARK – more than 30 sculptures along a recreational trail make this outdoor gallery a must-see.

WATER WALKERS – the Central Wisconsin Water Ski Show Team puts on choreographed shows weekly June-August on Lake DuBay.

▶ | PARKS

ONE-STOP Wonders

Everyone finds fun in these parks.

Standing Rocks County Park offers biking, skiing and disc golfing for all ages.

Sunset Lake Park offers one of the area's best swimming beaches.

Outdoor rinks welcome beginning skaters and accomplished hockey players.

Fatbikers can find new routes to roll at Steihaugen Recreation Area.

Cyclists can ride the whole 27-mile Green Circle Trail or enjoy shorter ride options.

Grass seating

Explore the Stevens Point Area's best parks with this playlist.

▶ | The Buena Vista Grasslands provides rich birdwatching in one of the biggest grasslands east of the Mississippi River.

▶ | The 1,000-mile Ice Age Trail passes through Portage County, offering nearly unlimited hiking adventures.

FRESH Tracks

Go on a tour on the trails of Portage County and you'll soon become a big fan. A favorite route is the Green Circle Trail, a 27-mile trail that circles the Stevens Point Area, passing the Wisconsin River, Plover River and other streams and creeks. The trailhead is located at the Schmeeckle Reserve, a beautiful 280-acre park that's part of the UW-Stevens Point campus.

Portage County is also home to a segment of the Ice Age Trail, a thousand-mile walking path that winds through terrain sculpted by glaciers.

In eastern Portage County, Standing Rocks County Park features 13 miles of trails open for hiking and biking, as well as 33 holes of disc golf. The trailhead is located off Standing Rocks Road.

Families can have fun while learning about nature on the Born Learning Trail, an interactive walking trail at Mead Park next to the Wisconsin River in Stevens Point.

The Tomorrow River State Trail offers 24 miles of hiking between Manawa and Plover. The trail is also open to biking and horseback riding. In the winter, it's a snowmobile route. Pick it up in Plover or Amherst Junction.

NEW Wave

Start your next adventure on the water in the Stevens Point Area, where you can find paddling options that are perfectly in tune with your plans. Whether you're looking for family-friendly canoeing waters or the challenge of kayaking through spring rapids, you'll find paddling around Portage County.

Families and beginning paddlers should check out the calm waters of Lake Joanis in Stevens Point, a picturesque paddling route that features flat routes and easy access.

Intermediate paddlers can head to the Upper Plover River in Stevens Point, a river of generally flat water with some rocky stretches. The Tomorrow River in Amherst offers another good option. This route meanders through woods and fields and passes the historic Rising Star Mill.

Paddlers with advanced skills should head to Mill Creek in Linwood for some up-tempo fun. Get out on the river in the spring, when the water is high and the rapids give skilled paddlers a challenge.

▶ COMMUNITY RESOURCES

Stevens Point

When Stevens Point was founded in 1858, this was a community of loggers, fur traders and brewers. The community is still known for its outstanding beer and so much more: companies such as Delta Dental, Sentry Insurance, Travel Guard and Herrschners all call this place home. The University of Wisconsin–Stevens Point is one of the community’s treasures. The 400-acre campus includes Schmeeckle Reserve, the Wisconsin Conservation Hall of Fame, the Museum of Natural History, the Carlsten Art Gallery and the Allen F. Blocher Planetarium.

Plover

Just south of Stevens Point on the east shore of the Wisconsin River is the Village of Plover. This charming community is conveniently located at the crossroads of I-39 and is home to a variety of retailers and businesses, including O’so Brewing Company and Great Northern Distilling. The village also has many great parks and the Korean War Memorial of Wisconsin at Lake Pacawa.

Town of Plover

The Town of Plover is a great place to live, offering peaceful surroundings just minutes from shopping, dining and other businesses. The town has a rich agricultural tradition and is home to some of the state’s largest vegetable farms.

Amherst

On the banks of the Tomorrow River, you’ll find the Village of Amherst, a quiet but thriving community with a very strong sense of place. Amherst is home to the Tomorrow River State Trail, Lettie W. Jensen Community Center and Central Waters Brewing Company.

Other Gems

The countryside is dotted with small communities like Junction City, Almond, Bancroft, Rosholt, Nelsonville, Park Ridge, Whiting and Amherst Junction. The rural Lake DuBay area in northwestern Portage County offers many recreational opportunities and encompasses most of the townships of Eau Pleine, Hull and Dewey.

REST AND Relaxation

The Stevens Point Area offers amenities to help visitors enjoy a slower tempo as they relax, renew and recharge. Spas are a good place to start finding a new vibe – they offer a full host of services, including hot stone, relaxation and deep-tissue massages.

Relaxing concerts take place regularly on the UW-Stevens Point campus and @1800 Theater and showcase a variety of genres, including classical and jazz. Concerts by the Stevens Point City Band take place every Wednesday in June and July. The Central Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra offers performances throughout the year, including a popular holiday concert.

Explore beautiful art in area galleries like the Scarabocchio Art Museum, the Riverfront Arts Center, the Carlsten Art Gallery and Q Gallery.

Portage County is home to more than 40 lakes and rivers, offering beautiful places to watch the sun set. Good vantage points include Bukolt Park or Lake Pacawa Park.

► | More than free muffins: Many lodging properties provide a complimentary breakfast to guests.

► | Floating fun: Take a dip in one of the dozen hotels and resorts that has a swimming pool.

► | Wheels up: All area hotels and resorts have airport transportation service via taxi or shuttle.

► | Move and groove: Some lodging includes use of a fitness center – other hotels are near beautiful trails.
